

6-17-1932

UA12/2/1 College Heights Herald, Vol. VIII, No. 16

WKU Student Affairs

Follow this and additional works at: http://digitalcommons.wku.edu/dlsc_ua_records

Part of the Advertising and Promotion Management Commons, Fiction Commons, Higher Education Administration Commons, Journalism Studies Commons, Mass Communication Commons, Public Relations and Advertising Commons, Social History Commons, Sociology Commons, Sports Studies Commons, and the United States History Commons

Recommended Citation

WKU Student Affairs, "UA12/2/1 College Heights Herald, Vol. VIII, No. 16" (1932). WKU Archives Records. Paper 2304.
http://digitalcommons.wku.edu/dlsc_ua_records/2304

This Other is brought to you for free and open access by TopSCHOLAR®. It has been accepted for inclusion in WKU Archives Records by an authorized administrator of TopSCHOLAR®. For more information, please contact connie.foster@wku.edu.

HELP FINISH
KENTUCKY
BUILDING

College Heights Herald

Western Kentucky State Teachers College

PAY PLEDGES
PROMPTLY

VOLUME VIII—No. 16

BOWLING GREEN, KY., FRIDAY, JUNE 17, 1932.

ISSUED SEMI-MONTHLY

ANNUAL CAMP AT MAMMOTH CAVE IS MADE

Mr. Geo. Wood Sponsors
Camping Trip To Park Area

40 MAKE EXCURSION Cave Trips, Boat Trip, Hikes Made In 5-Day Camp

Forty students and alumni of Western attended the annual Mammoth Cave Camping excursion under the sponsorship of Mr. George E. Wood, of the Geography Department here, from June 2-7.

The party left on Thursday, June 2, immediately after the graduation exercises and returned on the evening of Tuesday, June 7.

The entire time was spent in the proposed Mammoth Cave National Park Area and the party visited a number of places of note in the region. Important caves visited are: Crystal Cave, New Entrance, containing the Cathedral Domes and Frozen Niagara, Mammoth Cave, Mammoth Onyx Cave, Hidden River Cave, Sand Cave, and Diamond Caverns. The longest underground route followed by the party was 7 1/2 miles in the New Entrance from Cathedral Domes to Frozen Niagara by way of Morrison and College Heights Avenues. The party went through the new entrances to routes three and four of Mammoth Cave.

A feature of the trip was an all day boat excursion on the Green and Noddy rivers. The party visited Kyrock, where it was shown the factories and quarries of the Kentucky Rock Asphalt Company, and climbed Whistle Mountain, Turkey Rock, and Diamond Rock. Supper was eaten at the mouth of the Noddy Creek near Diamond Rock. This is said to be one of the most picturesque parts of the proposed park area.

This excursion has been conducted annually for twenty-five years and has been under the sponsorship of Mr. Wood, who succeeded Mr. George Page, for four years. He was assisted by Mrs. H. Russell Jenkins of Central City, chaperon, Carlos Oakley, of Marion, camp manager, and Leola Sullenger of Letchfield, dietician. The management reports an excellent trip with favorable weather and no serious accidents or illness.

Mr. J. R. Whitmer and his family and the family of Mr. Wood were guests of the camp on Sunday, June 5.

Mr. Wood says that the outlook for the excursion next year is good and that he expects more members than were in this year's party, which is the largest within the period of his sponsorship.

Charlene Roemer Gets Master's Degree

Miss Charlene Roemer received the M. A. degree at George Peabody College, Nashville, Tennessee, on Tuesday, June 7. Miss Roemer received the A. B. degree from Western in 1928, was an instructor in physical education at Ocala High School, Ocala, Florida, from 1928 to 1930, and in 1930 returned to Western, where she has since been a member of the Physical Education Department. While a student at Western, Miss Roemer was a member of the College Heights Herald staff.

Tennis Tilt Dropped

The tennis tournament, which was recently held on Western's courts, has been abandoned because of the absence of some of the players who left at the close of the last semester. The tournament was being conducted solely by Western students. No winners were announced, but White, Coffman, and Thompson were tied in the semi-finals when the tournament was dropped.

Paul Vaughn, A. B. '31, of the high school faculty at Shelbyville, Tenn., has returned to the Hill for summer school.

Ninety-Eight Receive Bachelor's Degree Here Four Receive Master of Arts Degree In First Graduate Class

The regular June commencement exercises were held in the Physical Education Building at 10 o'clock Thursday morning, June 2. There were ninety-eight students who received the Bachelor's degree and four who received the Master's degree. The Standard Certificate was awarded to a large group. A greater number will graduate in the commencement at the end of August.

After the academic procession the invocation was given by Dr. Jerome O. Williams of the First Baptist Church of this city. President H. H. Cherry introduced Governor Henry J. Allen, of Kansas, who delivered the address. Dean F. C. Grise first presented the candidates for the certificate and Bachelor's degree. Mr. E. H. Canon read the names and President Cherry gave out the diplomas. In presenting the four candidates for the Master's degree Dean Grise outlined briefly the history and purpose of the Graduate School. The degrees were then formally conferred.

After the audience stood and sang the College Hymn, "The Red and the Gray," the Reverend W. F. Huddleston pronounced the benediction.

President Cherry in presenting Governor Allen, reviewed the Kansas services as United States senator, governor of Kansas, director of the Red Cross activities, vice-chairman of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, and

Kelly Thompson And Hays Wiggins Given Ogden Medals

Kelly Thompson and Hays Wiggins were awarded the Ogden Medal for oratory and the Robinson Medal for declamation, respectively, on May 30, at the college auditorium. The contests were conducted by the English Department in the college auditorium on Thursday evening, May 26.

Mr. Thompson, during his freshman year, won the Robinson Medal. Mr. Wiggins has the distinction of winning the Robinson Medal in his first attempt.

Mr. Thompson's oration was "Democracy in Peril." The subject of Mr. Wiggins' declamation was "The House in Order" by H. P. Evans.

The judges for the contest were Rodes K. Myers and J. U. Wade, Bowling Green attorneys, and E. K. Austin of the Bowling Green Business University.

James P. Cornette, of the English Department, had charge of the contests.

Speaks At Commencement

The annual commencement address for the Bowling Green High school was delivered on Wednesday evening, May 25, by Dr. Earl A. Moore of the English Department. Dr. Moore's subject was "The Business of Being a Person." The speaker discussed the graduates as being kings and queens of life, designing the kingdoms of the Body, of the Mind, of the Soul, and of Conduct over which they are to rule.

Graduates' Directory Is Conducted By W. J. Craig

Corrections For This Column Will Be Published Upon Receipt

By W. J. Craig, Alumni Secretary
This is a continuation of the information service conducted in the College Heights Herald by the Alumni secretary, concerning the whereabouts of different members of the Association.

Class 1916.
Allen, Helen (Mrs. F. G. Burd), Frankfort, Ky., homemaker.
Allison, A. A.—In West Virginia. Principal of High School.
Allison, E. E.—Minerva, Ky. Principal of High School.
Baker, E. B.—Realty Building, Louisville, Ky. Attorney at Law.
Bristow, Olivia—No address.

worker in other important positions.
"I am siding in one of the greatest hospital projects ever attempted in time of peace," said Mr. Allen, in telling of his present connection with the Reconstruction Finance Corporation. He compared favorably the financial and social condition of the United States to that of England and Germany, where socialistic measures of remedy have been attempted. All such policies either have broken down or soon will, for "the Socialist mind is always 'wooly' on the subject of money," declared the speaker.

"Our present situation is a result of the gross materialism that follows every war," said the Kansas journalist, but he contended that the graduate of today will not be out of place in life. Today's graduate goes out into the world as a necessary element, and it is a world which will soon come back to the ideals which we have been teaching in the schools. "We'll come back to normal!" asserted Mr. Allen. "We'll come back because we have always come back." He predicted that when we have come back those who have been through this period will be the better off for having done so.

"This is not a period of unemployment. It is a time of opportunity for a bigger employment of mind and spirit. I congratulate you on the mission you have to show your better courage!" Governor Allen concluded.

Mr. Bert R. Smith Given Doctor Of Philosophy Degree

On Tuesday, June 7, Professor Bert R. Smith, of the Education Department of this institution, with five others, received the Ph. D. degree at Peabody College, Nashville, Tennessee.

Dr. Smith's major subject was school administration, and his minor subject was economics. He wrote his dissertation on "The Ability of Kentucky to Finance Public Education." In this he evolved a formula for estimating the income by counties.

Dr. Smith has been connected with the Education Department of this college since 1923. He has been on leave of absence for the last two years with the exception of the last term from September to April.

While on the campus at Peabody, he was initiated into Kappa Delta Phi fraternity. He was president of Phi Delta Kappa fraternity, the School Administration Club, and the Kentucky Club, and was vice-president of the Graduate Club.

Dr. Smith is now back at Western in active duty, teaching in the Administrative Department of the Department of Education.

Visited Hill

C. R. Harralson and Otis Harkins, principals of Nebo and Uniontown high schools respectively, brought their graduates through Bowling Green, en route to Mammoth Cave, June 2. They visited the Hill and camped at Lost River for the night. On the next day Mr. Wood, head of the Geography Department, accompanied them to the cave.

Capshaw, Mattie—Hermitage

Capshaw, Mattie—Hermitage Springs, Tenn. Alumni member.
Cannon, E. H.—Western Teachers College, Bowling Green, Ky. Registrar. Alumni member.
Carson, Nona (Mrs. J. V. McReynolds)—Lewisburg, Ky. Homemaker. Alumni member.
Champion, Raymond—Lawrenceburg, Ky. Superintendent of City Schools. Alumni member.
Clemmons, Gertrude (Mrs. Frank Lindsey)—Brownsville, Ky. Homemaker. Alumni member.
Clark, Ruth—No address.

E. E. Allison is superintendent of schools at Minerva, Kentucky. Mr. Allison took his Bachelor's degree from the University of Kentucky after leaving Western. He received his Life Certificate from Western in 1918, and has since been one of the successful and loyal graduates of the Hill.

ALUMNI NEWS Contributions For This Column Solicited

William R. Hammond, A. B. '29, is finishing the work for his Master's degree at Peabody College this summer. Mr. Hammond has just served a term as director of the Alumni Association.

Sam Gaskin, A. B. '26, has been superintendent of schools at Greenville, Ga., for the past six years. Mr. Gaskin will finish the work for his Master's degree at the University of Georgia soon. He has about seventeen teachers in his organization and he expresses the fact that they have been able to finance their schools thus far successfully.

Evelyn Moore, A. B. '30, has been teaching in the Bowling Green City Schools for the past three years.

Nellie Borders, who has been teaching at Crestwood since her graduation in '30, will be a member of the faculty at Kirkmansville next year. She has been visiting friends in the city and on College Heights recently.

Jewell Eubanks has just returned from Biloxi, Miss., and is doing some work in physical education and music this term. Since her graduation, Mrs. Eubanks has been teaching in the high school at Biloxi. She will take up her work there again next fall.

Roy Whalin, principal of the Junior High School at Hickman, recently visited his father in the city and also his friends on the Hill. Mrs. Whalin, who was formerly Emma Nisbet, was with him.

J. F. Dixon, a member of the faculty at Princeton, is attending summer school at Western and is majoring in biology.

Mrs. W. E. Lynch formerly Ruth Robertson, visited on the Hill recently. Mrs. Lynch was a student at Western several years ago and is now living at Shelbyville.

When the school first moved to College Heights, one of the outstanding students was Miss Mary McDaniel, now Mrs. Elvia J. Stahrr of Hickman, Ky. Mrs. Stahrr has a son who has just graduated from the Hickman High School with honors. Mrs. Stahrr graduated at Western in the class of 1909.

Nancy Bradshaw, A. B. '29, of Bowling Green, is teaching in the grades at Barlow, Ky. She is now Mrs. Price.

Mary Lucille Cotton, A. B. '28, is head of the History Department of the Medora High School, Valley Station, Ky. S. E. Hancock, A. B. '31, is principal there.

Word has been received that Lyman M. McBryde, alumnus of the college, received his M. D. degree from the Detroit Medical University on Thursday, June 16.

Elvis S. Alford writes from 6769 Goldsmith Avenue, Detroit, Mich., that he is still working on his Medical Degree.

A. J. Boatright is postmaster at Beech Creek. He has held this position since 1922. He is a graduate of the 1910 Life Certificate Class.

Mr. Willie Colley, who received the Life Certificate at the old Southern Normal School here in 1916, is teaching science in the Polytechnic Institution at Riverside, California. He has completed his Master's degree and is working toward his Ph. D. degree. While attending school here Mr. Colley was a cripple; however, since having two or three operations performed on his leg, he is able to walk without a limp.

E. E. Allison is superintendent of schools at Minerva, Kentucky. Mr. Allison took his Bachelor's degree from the University of Kentucky after leaving Western. He received his Life Certificate from Western in 1918, and has since been one of the successful and loyal graduates of the Hill.

ALUMNI GROUP HOLDS ANNUAL BUSINESS MEET

J. F. Tanner Is Elected Head Of Alumni Association

The Alumni Association of Western held its annual business meeting on Wednesday morning, June 1, in Vanmeter Hall. President T. O. Hall was in charge of the session, which was featured by the inspiring address by Senator Charles G. Franklin of Madisonville. Senator Franklin, in his subject of "Carry On," pointed out that Western has weathered previous storms of adversity and that she cannot help but emerge victorious from the present financial situation and continue to carry on in the future.

After a business session, in which J. F. Tanner, principal of Russellville High School, was elected president of the body for the ensuing year, the members and friends of the institution adjourned to the dining room of J. Whit Potter Hall for the annual luncheon of the Alumni. About two hundred and fifty attended this function.

Some of the features of the occasion were the attendance of fifteen members of the Class of '14, who had their table decorated in the class colors, and also the presence of thirty-two members of the graduates of Potter College, with their sashes decorated in green and gold. Dr. H. H. Cherry made an informal talk, in which he characterized the proceedings of the program as a "smooth-running stream," so well coordinated were all the parts.

Some of the visitors to the luncheon were Senator Franklin, Dr. and Mrs. A. L. Crabbs, of Peabody College, Nashville, and Mr. and Mrs. R. C. P. Thomas of Bowling Green. Judge Thomas is a former regent of Ogden College.

Mr. Hall acted as toastmaster for the following program: Music, College Heights Orchestra; "Southern Normal," Dr. J. L. Harmon; "Potter College," Miss Mary R. Armistead; "Ogden College," E. A. Demumbrum; "The State Normal School," J. W. Snyder; "The College," Joe C. Howard; song, "College Heights."

Scholarship Is Awarded Student

Glenn Maxwell, A. B. '32, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Maxwell, of Robinson, Illinois, has been awarded a three year scholarship to the Southern Presbyterian Theological Seminary at Louisville. The honor includes such concessions as board and room during the time.

Mr. Maxwell will do work on his Master's degree at the University of Louisville during the time that he is doing work at the seminary.

Sarah Tyler Wins Trustees' Medal

Sarah Tyler, a member of this year's graduating class and a member of the Tallman staff, was awarded the Ogden College Trustees' Medal at the chapel exercises of the college on Wednesday morning, June 1. Miss Tyler is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Tyler of 1355 State Street, this city.

The medal is awarded annually to the student having the highest average for four years college work and is recognized as one of the highest honors a student can receive from this institution.

The awarding of the Trustees' Medal, together with the Robinson and Ogden Medals, which were awarded to Hays Wiggins and Kelly Thompson at Chapel on Monday morning, May 30, is a traditional event in Bowling Green. It being one of the oldest traditions of Ogden College.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe C. Howard had the following visitors during commencement: Mrs. C. M. Howard, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Howard, Mrs. P. H. Cavanaugh, Miss Dorothy Ann Cavanaugh and Miss Orpha Jenkins, all of Springfield.

Graduate School History Reviewed By Dean Grise Western Expects To Award About Fifteen Master of Arts Degrees In Year

By Dean F. C. Grise
Western Kentucky Teachers College has just demonstrated the results of the establishment of the Graduate School by the awarding of four Master of Arts degrees at the commencement on June 2. Those receiving the degrees: Walton Reynolds, History; Mrs. Wallace Smith, History; Mansfield Martin, Education, and Edward Ray, Education.

The graduate school was authorized by the Board of Regents on April 16, 1931. This authorization was later confirmed by the executive councils of the state teachers colleges. The institution had been looking forward to a program of graduate study for several years and had been planning its course of study and studying the requirements, standards, and regulations of the best graduate schools of the country with a view to an organization which would be in keeping with the practice found in these schools and which would mark the respect of educators and the public in general.

The organization was completed in time to offer courses on the graduate level during the summer session of 1931. During the first summer school, sixty-one graduate students were enrolled. Up to the present time, 100 different students have registered for graduate courses in the institution. Of this number, fifteen have been admitted to candidacy for the Master of Arts degree. Four of this number completed all requirements for the degree at the close of the regular school year and received the Master of Arts degree at the commencement, June 2. Ten or twelve others expect to meet all requirements for the degree by the close of the summer session of 1932. The outlook for a very satisfactory enrollment in the graduate school during the summer session is most excellent.

A Graduate Club, of which all graduate students are members, was organized early in the year. It has made a valuable contribution to the school in the way of providing opportunities toward personal and professional advancement of those concerned.

No more earnest, capable, and loyal group of young men and women could be found in any institution than those who have been pursuing work in the Graduate School during the first year of its existence. The institution as a whole has already begun to feel the stimulation that comes to both students and faculty from increased standards in scholarship, the development of a spirit of investigation and research, and the influence on the campus of a number of strong young men and women pursuing advanced courses of study in order to better prepare themselves for educational leadership in the state of Kentucky.

The candidates for the Master of Arts degree must complete one year of residence study beyond the Bachelor's degree, have an average academic standing of at least "B" or "B+", and possess ability to do individual research as revealed by the writing of a thesis acceptable to the departments concerned and approved by the Committee on Graduate Instruction.

Dr. James Barnes Honored With Research Fellowship

Former Student and Instructor Here Is Honored By Temple University

The following article, which will be of interest to Western Alumni and students appeared in the Temple University News, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, on April 8, 1932:

"Dr. James A. Barnes, instructor in the Department of History and an authority on the gold standard, has been awarded a research fellowship by the Social Science Council for the year 1932-33. The University Council has granted Dr. Barnes a leave of absence which will be made effective the second semester of next year. At that time

COLLEGE HIGH GRADUATES 32 SENIORS HERE

Dr. Joseph Raush Speaks At Commencement Exercises

Dr. Joseph Raush, rabbi of the Synagogue Adath Israel, of Louisville, delivered the annual commencement address for the Training School on Tuesday morning, May 26, in Vanmeter Hall. Dr. Raush is well known as a popular speaker and as a prominent leader among the Jewish people.

In his introductory statements the speaker called attention to the radical shift of responsibility going on in the United States and throughout the whole world at the present time. Emphasizing the trend in modern education, he stated that "it is democratizing the spread of knowledge everywhere." The dreams and the fancies of great men, this thinker believes, are just now coming to be realized through the process of education. But he further stated that the complete greatness of a plan lies in the fact that the planner can never completely carry out what he plans.

The rabbi expressed his admiration for the spirit that has made American idealism, but he let fall a word of warning in saying that the enemy that may be dangerous that spirit lies within rather than without. He spoke of the great spirits of America, placing Abraham Lincoln as "the patron saint" and according him the place as "the most inclusive American." Dr. Raush briefly noted the passing of race prejudice as being an indication of the fine spirit of Americanism as designating a hope of the realization of the dreams and fancies of the past.

At the end of the address, Mr. W. L. Matthews, principal of the Training School, presented the class of sixteen boys and sixteen girls to Dr. Cherry, who, after a brief congratulatory, awarded the diplomas. The following received the diploma: Felix Allen, Jr., John Leer Campbell, Nora Cook, Jonathan Marie Deke, Emily Donaldson, Lottie Evans, Roxie Lou Gibbs, William Melvin Gott, Terry L. Gray, Clarence Hardcastle, Robert A. Hardy, Frank Henley, Aurie Glover Hills, Leonard Harlow Hudson, Willard Taylor Kingston, Craig Lester, Lorine Manning, Catherine Miller, Preston S. Miller, William C. Morris, Jr., Louise Conrad Nahn, Bertha Polston, Earl Edward Riggsdale, Robby Slinker, Charles Spaulding, Rebecca Amanda Thomas, Thelma H. Thomas, Elizabeth Topmiller, B. T. Towery, James Archie Williams, Gladys Witten, and Catherine Lucille Young.

Adds Current Topic Club

Dr. A. M. Stickles addressed the Current Topic Club on Thursday afternoon, May 26. He discussed "Kentucky During the Time of the Civil War."

Dr. Charles W. Welch, Pastor Of The Fourth Avenue Presbyterian Church In Louisville, Preached The Baccalaureate Sermon In The Auditorium Of The Administration Building On Sunday Evening, May 29.

Dr. Charles W. Welch, pastor of the Fourth Avenue Presbyterian Church in Louisville, preached the baccalaureate sermon in the auditorium of the Administration Building on Sunday evening, May 29. President H. H. Cherry presented Dean F. C. Grise, who announced the program of the evening. Dr. Grise in turn presented Mr. Sterrett Cuthbertson, local member of the Board of Regents, who introduced Dr. Welch. Musical numbers were rendered by Miss Gladys Sims of the Voice Department and Mr. Hugh F. Johnson, violinist. The invocation was given by Rev. E. P. Downey, pastor of the Westminster Presbyterian Church. The benediction was pronounced by Rev. B. M. Winter, pastor of the First Methodist Church.

The subject taken by the speaker was "As A Man Thinketh in the Heart So Is He." His scripture was the thirty-second Psalm.

Dr. Welch began with the statement that this generation of graduates is going forth to face life when, apparently, all the skies are overcast. He showed, however, that what each individual life would be lay within the individual. In this thought the speaker saw a gleam of hope for the world, for he expressed optimism in the possibility awaiting the trained student.

RIFLEMEN ARE RECIPIENTS OF THREE AWARDS

Local Team Is Winner Of Silver Shield And Two Cups

HONOR SWEATERS GIVEN

Sam Martin Takes Second Place In Individual Scoring

The trophies won by the Western rifle team in the two War Department matches and in the William Randolph Hearst match were presented to the members of the 1931-1932 team in chapel on Monday, May 30.

President H. H. Cherry presented the individual awards as Colonel T. A. Bothwell introduced each member of the team. The following men received medals presented to them by the War Department: Samuel P. Martin, Edwin B. Topmiller, Thomas Terrell, C. J. Williams, Howard Taylor, John Morris, Marvin Williams, Warren Harris, Cecil Shannon, N. W. Hunter, N. B. Holland, C. B. Taylor and Lyle Webb.

Colonel Bothwell presented the two silver cups that were awarded to the team by the War Department, and the silver shield, won in the William Randolph Hearst match, to the institution.

This was the first year for five years that a Western rifleman has not been individual collegiate champion. Samuel P. Martin was awarded honors in 1931 for the highest individual score of any college rifleman in the United States participating in the Hearst Collegiate match. Martin's total score last year of 197 of a possible 200. This year he beat his last year's record two points for a total of 199 of a possible 200, but somebody was perfect, and "Sam" was disappointed to get only a second place. He was captain of this year's team and was of invaluable aid to Colonel Bothwell in developing a winning team.

After the chapel program and the presentation of awards Monday morning, the boys went to Colonel Bothwell's office, where they received their honor sweaters awarded them by the institution.

BACCALAUREATE SERMON GIVEN BY DR. WELCH

Mr. Sterrett Cuthbertson Presents Speaker of Evening

Dr. Charles W. Welch, pastor of the Fourth Avenue Presbyterian Church in Louisville, preached the baccalaureate sermon in the auditorium of the Administration Building on Sunday evening, May 29.

President H. H. Cherry presented Dean F. C. Grise, who announced the program of the evening. Dr. Grise in turn presented Mr. Sterrett Cuthbertson, local member of the Board of Regents, who introduced Dr. Welch. Musical numbers were rendered by Miss Gladys Sims of the Voice Department and Mr. Hugh F. Johnson, violinist. The invocation was given by Rev. E. P. Downey, pastor of the Westminster Presbyterian Church. The benediction was pronounced by Rev. B. M. Winter, pastor of the First Methodist Church.

The subject taken by the speaker was "As A Man Thinketh in the Heart So Is He." His scripture was the thirty-second Psalm.

Dr. Welch began with the statement that this generation of graduates is going forth to face life when, apparently, all the skies are overcast. He showed, however, that what each individual life would be lay within the individual. In this thought the speaker saw a gleam of hope for the world, for he expressed optimism in the possibility awaiting the trained student.

College Heights Herald

Published by

State Teachers College

Issued on First and Third Fridays of Each Month

SUBSCRIPTION RATES

Alumni Dues and Herald, One Year.....$1.00
Advertising Rates and Sample Copies furnished on application. Address all communications to The College Heights Herald, Bowling Green, Ky.

EDITOR.....Chas. E. Patterson, '32

BUSINESS MANAGER.....Howard W. Robey, '33

MANAGING EDITOR.....Joe Lafferty, '33

REPORTORIAL STAFF

Henry G. Baker, '34.....Moseley Cambron, '34
Mary Katherine Davidson, '33.....Eugene Greer, '34
Ellen Hatcher, '33.....Janie Francis Jones, '33
Bassett Neely, '34.....Mary Eleanor Priest, '32
Ethel Reharker, '34.....Howard Taylor, '33
Elizabeth Warner, '33.....A. J. Beeler II, '33

EDITORIAL WRITERS

Marven R. Whipple, '32.....Glenn Maxwell, '32

SOCIETY EDITORS

Vera Frances Mitchell, '33.....Ruth Snider, '33

Sarah Porter Farnsworth, '32.....Fern Cox, '33

CLUB EDITORS

Winnie Witten, '33.....Corinne Bushong, '33

FEATURE WRITERS

George Burchette, '32.....Frederick Greer, '34

Charley Robertson, '33.....John Thomas, Jr., '34

SPORTS STAFF

J. Holland Harvey, '33.....E. B. Coffman, '33

Joe Friedl, '33.....Joe B. Williams, '34

ALUMNI EDITOR

Howard Hicks, '34.....H. H. Patton, '33

ASSISTANT BUSINESS MANAGER.....Ernest Fuller, '33

Entered at the Postoffice at Bowling Green, Kentucky, under Act of March, 1872

MEMBER OF

NATIONAL COLLEGE PRESS ASSOCIATION

AND

KENTUCKY INTER-COLLEGIATE PRESS

FRIDAY, JUNE 17, 1932

The Greatness of Smallness

At the end of each college year there are awarded three medals, one for oratory, one for declamation, and one for scholarship, to the students excelling in those realms of endeavor. That it is a high honor to be the recipient of any of those honors is well known, and those winning them for 1932 are to be congratulated.

But there is a distinction apart from merely the current significance which accompanies these medals of recognition. It is their history, of which we are reminded each year. They came to us from old Ogden College when it was swallowed up by Western "as the great fish swallowed Jonah," and as Judge R. C. P. Thomas emphatically expressed it in the recent awarding of one of the honors, "we hope that the great fish will never spit up the personality it swallowed."

The carrying over of these traditions from a school that has vanished into history, merging itself with a larger, speaks of the grandeur of smallness. Historic Ogden sent out renowned men from her halls—their places at the helm of the state, the church, and the school. She molded fine character, strong leaders, and distinguished spirits when there was none other to nurture them. She was a pioneer, and she did her duty unfalteringly and fearlessly as long as she was needed. But when a greater than she called for her to come and enlist in a vaster undertaking, she willingly furled her own flag, gave up her distinct body, and fell into the ranks of Western's marching hundreds. Thus a famous Kentucky institution stepped into the ranks of the immortal. Ogden lost her life that she might be born into a new age with greater visions and higher challenges. She ultimately lost nothing, and she gave all. Her traditions became Western's heritage—a heritage born of the devoted loyalty, the vigorous ideals, and the fine chivalry of the youth of old Kentucky.

The lesson of Ogden's willingness to give life through death is needed today. The age is one of big undertakings, of vast consolidations, and of magnificent plans. It is an era calling for the small interests of the individual to merge with the public welfare of humanity and the social personality. As the towering pine or the proud oak loses itself in the inclusive sweep of the landscape, or as the stream and the brook hurry out to seek their paths to the salty main, so life calls to every soul, to every ideal and principle, to leap into the hot furnace of activity and endeavor and accomplishment and seek to up lift the whole of it.

As Ogden did not lose the splendor of her attainment nor the mellow halo of the traditions that compassed her about, neither does the human soul lose its idealism and its immortality when it plunges into the life of the Great Whole, or, as Emerson designates it, the Over Soul of things. We need not fear an age of consolidation and bigness—of the school, of the church, of industry—if of the blocks with which we build we rear a gigantic structure based on the best that comes from the integral parts. Ogden unfolds to modern lesson on "The Greatness of Smallness." Smallness is the mustard seed out of which the tree of greatness is given birth.

—GLENN MAXWELL

The Graduate School

In this issue is a history of the Graduate School of this institution prepared by Dean F. C. Grise. The tenor of his remarks is very optimistic in regard to the future of this department and complimentary of the work done by the graduate students during the past scholastic year. The Graduate School has had its birth amid adverse circumstances, and the success with which it has been carried on during the year is a testimony to the earnest endeavor and skillful administration of the Graduate School faculty.

Four candidates were awarded the Master of Arts degree at the June graduating exercises, and ten or twelve more students will be candidates for the degree at the August commencement, which is a very good record for the initial year of the Graduate School.

In the establishment of the Graduate School Western has made a large contribution to the raising of standards of qualifications for teachers throughout the state, which has been a recognized need for some time. With more highly trained teachers the schools of Kentucky are sure to be the beneficiaries. It is in the progress of the public school system that we see the justification for maintaining all the institutions of higher learning in the state.

—EDITOR

The College Heights Herald will continue to be published throughout the summer session as usual. Three more issues will be forthcoming this summer. Contributions to the paper will be received and published on through June and July.

—EDITOR

During a period of international crisis, Woodrow Wilson wrote the following words: The man who disparages music as a luxury and non-essential is doing the nation an injury. Music now, more than ever before, is a national need. There is no better way to express patriotism than through music.

A very pleasing program was given at chapel Thursday, June 9, by members of the music faculty. Miss Gladys Sims, soprano, Mr. Hugh Johnson, violinist and Professor Strahm, who played a group of piano numbers and accompanied the other soloists.

Miss Sims sang "Bondage" by Teet, "Viennese Melody," arranged by Williams, and "Love is the Wind," by MacFadden. Her voice was up to its usual standard of clarity and richness and her singing was well received. She sang "Wouldn't That Be Queer," by Mrs. Beach, an encore.

Mr. Johnson always plays with a finish and an artistry seldom heard off the concert stage. His audience was very appreciative.

Kentucky Library Has Autographed Works Of Kentucky Authors

The Kentucky Library Department has recently received some very valuable editions to its shelves.

Among the Kentucky authors who have sent autographed copies of their work the last few weeks are the following: Sara Middleton, poet of our own faculty; Dr. James G. Poy, native Kentuckian, now living in Texas; Cleve Kincaid, Louisville dramatist, best known for "Common Clay"; Silas Bent, a native of Kentucky, has sent his newest book, "Biography of Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes"; Dr. Louis Salomon, another one of our faculty members; J. P. Adcock, poet of Livingston County; Dr. Ellen Churchill Semple, who wrote the library one of her last letters in presenting her book; Mrs. Cora Wilson Stewart, famous for her book on moonlight schools; Willard Rouse Jilson, possibly the greatest geologist Kentucky has known and one who has contributed his share to literature; Isabella McMeekin, poet of Louisville; George Horace Lormer, editor of "The Saturday Evening Post"; Mr. and Mrs. Case Young Rice, both well known in their special fields of literature.

These are some of the outstanding Kentucky authors who have recently made contributions to the Kentucky library. Each contribution is accompanied with a letter which is much appreciated and preserved in the Kentucky library files.

Pool In Use Daily Since Its Opening

The recently constructed swimming pool, which was opened on May 22, has proved a source of enjoyment not only for those who swim, but also for those who look on. Since the opening of the pool, many students have participated in swimming and diving.

The pool also is a spot of exquisite comfort and beauty. At night the brilliant lights gleaming under the water offer a pleasing sight. The color of the pool itself makes with the water a green of beautiful rays.

An added feature of the pool is the recently built spot where spectators may enjoy watching the swimmers. This place is made on an elevation where the whole pool is easily accessible to the eye. It is enclosed by a rustic cedar railing and is furnished with seats made of the same material by the Industrial Arts Department.

After all, the swimming pool is not only a place to swim and dive, and to develop physical bodies, but it is also a place where people can gather and spend the warm afternoons and evenings by talking and seeing a beautiful picture of art.

Rifle Team Guests Of Rotary Club

The members of the Western Rifle Team were the guests of the Rotary Club of Bowling Green for dinner Wednesday, June 1. The invitation was extended to the team through Mr. L. T. Smith. The boys all came back with smiles on their faces that they wear only when they pluck "Bull's eyes" or enjoy the dinner and hospitality of Rotarians.

and he responded to their liberal applause with Rondino, Beethoven-Kreiser, as an encore.

The Music Department is starting the summer term with enthusiasm to draw the violin bow into their work with interest and honest effort. Mr. Strahm reports a well-filled schedule and Mr. Johnson and Mr. Orr are busy helping the young musical enthusiasts to draw the violin bow, blow a horn, or beat a drum.

Miss Sims carries her schedule of voice students and teaches her harmony classes. Mrs. Travelstead and Miss Hurd are leading a large number of students through the intricacies of sight singing and public school music and Miss Ellege is working in interesting groups of those who are studying the history and appreciation of music. Of course, there are Music 100 classes enough for everybody, and each class meets twice a day, in the hope that among the rural and elementary schools there will soon be more music where there has been only a little, or a little where once was none.

Then the winter came, with tracks in the snow and skating and coasting. That was marvelous sport, coasting. I can see it now—the top of the long hill, the rush downward with the wind behind, their laughter as they snow-balled each other on the way home, the warm fire in the living room.

Elbert L. McCubbin Dies Of Heart Attack

Elbert L. McCubbin, A. B. '27, died instantly of heart attack while on a fishing trip to Taylor's Lake, a popular fishing place about ten miles from Morgantown. His death came on June 5, while he and several members of a party were camping at the lake. It was reported at Morgantown, which is about ten miles from the scene of his death, that he was probably dead before he fell from a boat into the water. The body was soon recovered and was removed to Morgantown where it was prepared for burial.

Mr. McCubbin, known by all his Western friends as "Red," was principal of the high school at Guthrie for three years following his graduation from Western in 1927. He had recently made his home in Louisville, where he had been employed with the Remington Typewriter Company of that city. "Red" will be remembered especially for his high standing in the 1927 class and in connection with the various extra curricular activities on the campus here.

On June 6, the body was removed to Magnolia, near Burkesville, where funeral services took place. His home was formerly at Magnolia.

He was thirty-two years of age and was single. His parents who survive him reside at Magnolia.

Epistle Received From Susie

Pastoreville, Ky.
June 12, 1932

Dear Everybody:
So this is June! and then, if ever come perfect days... How many of you are finding them so? Well, here I am way down in Pastoreville, with nothing to do and all day to do it in. Our schools closed two weeks earlier than usual this year because of well, if any of you can't guess it, in less than three attempts, just write me in care of station D-E-P-R-E-S-S-I-O-N.

Now here I am with all of this time on my hands. How I wish that this spare time could have been stretched out in regular intervals during the dear, old frantically busy days at Western. Since the kid brother is graduating from high school, I've been attending the commencement activities. Funny how I am always searching the audience for faces that I never find. Faces of people who were always present at gatherings on the Hill. And when the band blares forth with "The Stars and Stripes" or some equally well known march that Western's hand used to favor us with, do I get ill sick?

This morning's paper carried the story of the Ida Cooksey-Wayne Weller marriage last night. Certainly no one can say that he is surprised at that. But there will be many to proffer best wishes for they are a very likeable pair. Wayne used to contribute to the sport columns but I guess he'll crash the society page this time.

It's fast bed time in Pastoreville so I'll sign off at standard dormitory time (11 p. m.).

Rest wishes,

SUSIE.

Glenn Maxwell, of this year's graduating class and Business Manager of the Tallman, recently underwent a tonsil operation. He is improving nicely.

THE STUMBLING BLOCK

By Charlene Nunn

watch for them down the long road. And, best of all, Jim and Gail speeding up the road to romp with me.

They were such good sports, and I was always at their heels. But I tried to remember Mac's cautions. I soon learned to stay off the tennis courts when they were playing. I didn't like that game much.

I had to hang around the house close, when Jim wasn't at the office, to see what they were going to do next. They might come running out to the beach in their bathing suits, and I couldn't afford to miss a swim or, perhaps, a ride on the lake in the speedboat with the water spraying all over us.

Sometimes there'd be walks through the woods and a lunch spread while I explored. Often that fall, they went hunting. I don't like to think of that. I hate to admit it, but my one adventure with guns could not be forgotten. In spite of myself, I'd run and hide when I thought they were going to shoot.

Then the winter came, with tracks in the snow and skating and coasting. That was marvelous sport, coasting. I can see it now—the top of the long hill, the rush downward with the wind behind, their laughter as they snow-balled each other on the way home, the warm fire in the living room.

It was hard on them, I know, to have to stay in the house those winter evenings, though I must say they didn't seem to mind. But books and radios are so dull in comparison with the good times they could have had. They decided not to move into the city for the winter and were declining most of their invitations. Gail was getting ready for an exhibit in the spring.

So I did my best to entertain them on those winter evenings. I made them laugh a lot. "Look at that pose," she would say, "I'll do that one tomorrow." And on her easel in the studio there would be another picture of me.

"You know, Jim, I believe Terry has made me," she said to Jim once. "I know I am doing my best work. I feel more capable, freer."

That is the way I felt—free to roam all over the place. No more restlessness. It was not often the servants had to complain of me.

Once I heard: "What shall I do with Terry, Mr. Gray?" He seems to have been chewing on your riding crop."

"That's all right, Dobbs. Perhaps he needed something to chew. Mrs. Gray is so fond of him. She wouldn't want him punished."

Another time just before dinner: "Cook is terribly disturbed, madam. The little dog came through the butler's pantry like a flash, and caused me to drop my tray. Shall I punish him?" There was eagerness in the voice.

"By no means. Mr. Gray is very fond of Terry. He wouldn't want him punished."

Then the ground got soft and nice to scratch in again and it was spring. Then came the day before her birthday. He had to go to the city on business and he would get her birthday gift while there. So he whispered to me that morning when he was leaving: "Take care of her, Terry. Until I get back tonight."

She sat up late that night, reading. I knew she was waiting for him, and I tried to stay awake, too. The servants were all asleep on the third floor. Everything was very still.

I heard a slight noise and sat book and seemed to be listening too. Then I heard it again. It was like someone walking on the porch and trying not to make a noise. I looked at her. She was getting up quietly and moving toward a table. She slipped the drawer open and took out a short gun.

Before I knew what I was doing I was scampering across the floor toward a hiding place—panic-stricken. And she was moving, too, because suddenly I was under her feet and she had fallen. As she fell, the gun went off.

She didn't get up. I wondered why. I tried to get her to play with me, but she just lay there. Then a feeling came over me that I never had before. I began to whimper and shake all over.

"Get up, Gail, please. We'll go upstairs and you can sketch me now... A new pose, Gail... Me, trembling and whimpering. Never like this before... Your hands flung out on the floor... Make them sketch with their swift strokes..."

There was a loud ringing in my ears. I could see objects going around faster and faster... What were they?... Hands! Gail's hands flung out on the floor... People's hands... Goin' around faster and faster... Monsieur's well-kept hands gesturing... Chubby hands of children in the park... Gail's hands... Faster and faster... Hands of attendants—grooming, polishing, feeding... (Such a ringing in my ears!)... faster and faster... Jim's capable hands on the wheel driving swiftly through the night... Monsieur's hands fondling the pets... Gail's hands... The soft fat hands of Mrs. Fiedling... (Such a ringing in my ears!)... The calloused hands of the farmer... Gail's hands... Gail's hands pointed at me accusingly.

That loud ringing in my ears—Yes! it was Monsieur's voice saying, over and over, "You are always in the way. Just a stumbling block."

ALUMNI GROUP HAS LUNCHEON

Twenty-Fifth Anniversary Celebrated By Alumni

The Twenty-Fifth Anniversary of Western Kentucky Teachers College was celebrated by the Alumni Association at the annual alumni luncheon given in the Potter Hall dining room on Wednesday, June 1, at noon.

One of the most delightful alumni meetings ever held on College Heights was enjoyed by the large crowd of alumni members and visitors who attended. The program was as follows:

"Each in His Own Tongue"—Toastmaster: "Some call it Evolution but others call it God."

—T. O. Hall.

Music.

Southern Normal: "We started you and set your first goal."

—J. L. Harmon.

Potter College: "We were beauty and loyalty."

—Mrs. L. A. Armitage.

Ogden College: "We imparted to you traditions worthy to be preserved."

—R. A. Demumbrum.

The State Normal School: "We breathed upon you the spirit of the institution."

—J. W. Snyder.

The College: "Here we are."

—Joe C. Howard.

Song—"College Heights."

CLASSICAL CLUB
The Classical Club held its last meeting of the semester on Friday, May 20, at the home of Dr. [Name].

The nominating committee made its report with the following officers being approved and elected: president, Mary Frances McClesney; vice-president, Lucy Glenn Wood; reporter, Essie Topmiller; secretary, Tribby Moore.

CONGRESS DEBATING CLUB
The Congress Debating Club held its last meeting of the semester on Friday evening, May 27.

The club, since several of its members of graduation, the following seniors gave farewell addresses: Marven Whipple, Shepard Walker, Chas. Neville, Robert Sanders, and R. C. Gibson. Neil Taylor was elected president for the next semester.

The Bide-A-Wee Inn

ANNOUNCES NEW PRICES

25c—PLATE LUNCH—25c

Drink and Desert Included

Home Cooking Fountain Service

WE CATER TO STUDENT BUSINESS

Sandwiches—Short Orders all Hours

Candies and Confections

Chicken Dinner on Sunday25c

GET IT FIXED HERE !!

Watch Repairing

EXPERIENCED WATCHMAKERS

QUICK SERVICE

REASONABLE PRICES

ALL WORK GUARANTEED

L. H. Conkin

331 Main Street

"Look for The Red Clock"

Bowling Green Trust Co.

Opera House Building, College Street

GENERAL BANKING INVESTMENTS

We Solicit Your Checking Account
We Want You for a Customer
You Will Like Us as a Bank

The Student Body of Western Is Always Welcome At Our Store

We offer you the convenience and service of a first-class community institution—that of a

First Class Drug Store

We Are Fitted To Serve You Best

M.P.S. Drug Store

342 Main St.

Cor. Main & College

Host to the Great !!!

HOTEL SEELBACH

YOUR OLD KENTUCKY HOME IN LOUISVILLE

The register of Hotel Seelbach through the years reads like a page from the nation's history. Enjoy the distinction of a stay at Hotel Seelbach on your next trip to Louisville. Enjoy the food in the Seelbach Grill...

LOUISVILLE

500 COMFORTABLE ROOMS $2 UP

SOCIETY

Duncan-Oakley Marriage Is Announced

Announcement has been made of the wedding of Miha Maggie Duncan and Mr. Carlos Oakley of Marion at Marion on May 31.

Both are former students of Western. They will reside at the home of the bridegroom's mother in Marion during the summer.

Faculty Reception Given for Graduates

The annual reception for the members of the graduating classes of Western given by the members of the faculty was held on Wednesday evening, June 1, in West Hall from 8 o'clock to 10 o'clock. Approximately 500 people including the graduates and their visitors went through the receiving line. Refreshments consisted of frozen punch, wafers and mints. The decorations were carried out in a scheme honoring the graduates of the standard certificate class, the A. B., B. S., and M. A. groups.

Meehan-Rabold Wedding Is Announced

The wedding of Mary Catherine Meehan and Hugh Milton Rabold was solemnized at eight o'clock on Monday morning, May 23, at the Holy Family Church in Ashland. The Reverend Father Alfred Hansen officiated.

Dorothy Jane Meehan of Ashland, sister of the bride, and Glenison Rabold of Bowling Green, brother of the bridegroom, were the attendants.

Summer Sheers Demand Careful Attention.
WE SPECIALIZE IN KEEP-ING YOUR CLOTHES AT THEIR BEST.
YOUR HARDEST PROBLEM IS OUR DELIGHT.

Call 520

BURTON and HINTON

DRY CLEANERS AND DYERS
"Quality First—Ask Your Neighbor"
1125 CENTER STREET

If We Can't Make It Run It Must Be a Snail
EXPERT WATCH REPAIRING
NOT CHEAP BUT REASONABLE
WORK GUARANTEED

JOE H. RUST
Courtesy and Service
321 Main Street

Why Go To Town When You Can Buy Them Here—

Student Supplies,
Toilet Articles, and
A Complete Rexall Line

Plate Lunches
and
Short Orders

DELIVERY AND CURB SERVICE
The Coolest Place On the Hill

C. D. S. No. 5

PAUL D. SPECK

PERCY VAUGHN

SMART FOOTWEAR

Ladies' Shoes in New Shades and Styles
STRAPS, PUMPS AND DRESS SANDALS
$3.95—$5.95

New Arrivals in Portage Shoes

Sport Styles—All Colors
$5.00

E HRENWALD'S
927 College St.

Immediately following the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at the Ventura Hotel in Ashland, to which forty-five guests were invited. After the breakfast, the couple left by motor for a wedding trip in the East, their itinerary to include New Jersey, Baltimore, and Philadelphia. After June 6, they will be at home at 2409 Winchester Avenue in Ashland.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Leo Meehan, of 2300 Montgomery Avenue, Ashland, and is a graduate of the Holy Family School. For the past two years she has been employed with the Kentucky-West Virginia Gas Company at Ashland.

Mr. Rabold is a son of W. H. Rabold of this city and attended St. Joseph's Parochial School and Ogden College. For the past four years he has held a responsible position in the accounting department of the Kentucky-West Virginia Gas Company at Ashland.

Dr. and Mrs. M. L. Billings Are Hosts At Dinner

On Sunday evening, June 12, Dr. and Mrs. M. L. Billings entertained with a six o'clock dinner at their home on Broadway in honor of the recent conferring of the Doctor's degree on Mr. Bert R. Smith by Peabody College.

Among those present were Dr. and Mrs. Bert R. Smith, Dr. and Mrs. Earl Moore, Dr. and Mrs. L. F. Jones, and Dr. and Mrs. Billings.

Goff-Nunn Wedding Is Announced

Mr. and Mrs. William Daniel Goff announce the marriage of their daughter, Edna, to Mr. Eugene Henry Nunn on Saturday, June 4, at Louisville. Mrs. Nunn graduated in the A. B. class of 1920, and had been teaching penmanship in one of the platoon schools of Knoxville, Tennessee since graduation.

Lucile Leach and Clarence Brown are Married

Lucile Leach and Clarence Brown were married on Wednesday evening, June 1, at Scottsville, the Reverend J. B. True officiating.

Mabel Hudson was the maid of honor, and Helen Cox was the bridesmaid. Oswald Leach, brother of the bride, served as best man, and Clifton Daniel was the groomsmen.

Following the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Brown left on a motor trip through the South and on their return will make their home at Fordsville, Kentucky.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Brown are teachers in Ohio County schools and have been attending Western during the past semester.

Young's Wedding Announced

Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Young of Cave City have announced the wedding of their daughter, Mary White, to W. T. Rihard. The ceremony was performed at Franklin.

Mr. Rihard is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clite Rihard of Cave City. Both are graduates of the Cave City High School and were students at Western during the past year. They will reside at Cave City.

Cooksey-Weller Marriage Is Announced

Announcement has been received of the marriage of Miss Ida Hartwell Cooksey and Mr. Wayne Weller at Henderson on Saturday, June 11. Mrs. Weller is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hartwell Cooksey of Henderson. Mr. Weller's home is in Nelsonville, Kentucky.

Mr. and Mrs. Weller are former students of this institution. Mr. Weller having received the A. B.

Health, Success and Happiness

Are Dependent Upon

YOUR EYES

Help them to help you—have them examined by

WALTER E. FOX, O. D.

He can relieve your headaches and eyestrain with properly fitted glasses

"SAVE YOUR EYES"

Lenses Duplicated

Morris & Fox
Hallmark Jewelers

degree in the class of 1931. Both are former members of the College Heights Herald staff.

Miss Ragland Entertained
Miss Florence Ragland entertained the Ragland Library Club on Friday evening, May 27, with a book party. The members of the club came dressed as characters from the book world.

Prizes for costumes were won by Winifred Wallace as Aunt Polly in Mark Twain's "Tom Sawyer," Blanche Fitzsimmons as Tom Sawyer from the same book, and Geraldine Stephan as Christian from "Pilgrim's Progress."

Among other characters represented were Huckleberry Finn, Becky Thatcher, Jack and Jill, Little Bo Peep, Mistress Mary Quite Contrary, Camille, Bobby, John Silver, Evangeline, Lavender and Old Lace, Silver Slipper and Titania.

Miss Ragland was assisted in entertaining by Mrs. Mary Donaldson and Mrs. Herbert Moltenberry, Misses Margie Helm, Sara Tyler, and Ethel Alma Pollin. Refreshments were served.

Dr. and Mrs. Cherry Receive Seniors

A reception was given by Dr. and Mrs. Cherry for the seniors, from eight to ten, on Wednesday evening, May 26, at the President's Home. The porch was decorated with Chinese lanterns. Punch, mints, and cakes were served. Dr. M. L. Billings and Mrs. H. H. Cherry were at the head of the receiving line.

Dr. and Mrs. Cherry Receive Graduate Class

Members of the Graduate Class were entertained at a reception given by Dr. and Mrs. Cherry at their home on Tuesday evening, May 21, from 8 to 10 P. M.

President Cherry extended a cordial welcome to the upper classmen, which was followed by refreshments.

The President's Home is admirably suited for such social functions, and its location on the campus adds to its convenience.

Herald Staff Has Annual Banquet

The staff of the College Heights Herald gave its annual banquet on Thursday evening, May 26, in the annex of J. Whit Potter Hall, in celebration of the completion of the year's work in which, for the first time, they have issued the paper twice a month.

The place cards were linotype slugs on which were the names of the guests, carrying out the newspaper idea. Covers were laid for forty guests.

Charles Patterson, retiring editor of the Herald, was the toastmaster. The chief speaker of the evening was Aivis Temple of the Park City Daily News. Talks were made by Miss Frances Richards, teacher of the journalism classes on the Hill, Professor W. J. Craig, secretary of the Alumni Association and treasurer of the Herald, and Dr. Gordon Wilson of the English Department. Following the talks a musical program was given.

The Herald has completed one of its most successful years, and was recently awarded a prize at the meeting of the Kentucky Intercollegiate Press Association. The Herald has won three prizes in the last four years.

Personals

Mr. and Mrs. James C. Wilhite, of Neb., who are students at Western, motored home to visit relatives between terms.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter M. Carneal, who have been students at Western for the past two years, left on June 3 for Decatur, Alabama, where Mr. Carneal has accepted a position as assistant manager for a gas company.

P. L. Sandefud, A. B. '31, who has been teaching in the Hartford High School, has returned to Western to do work toward the Master's degree for the summer.

Mrs. C. A. Vincent, who has been living in the village and had the honor of having the largest number of children enrolled at Western for the past few years, has moved to Forest Park for the summer.

Mrs. A. G. Hubbard of Princeton was a recent visitor of her sons, Brooks and Baker Hubbard.

Miss Martha Orendorf visited in Nashville, Tennessee, during the week-end of May 28-29.

Mrs. Herbert Moltenberry and Mrs. Julia Weeks recently visited Miss Gertrude Caswell, who is a member of the History Department of Ward-Belmont College, Nashville.

Mrs. Herndon L. Greer and daughter, Martha, of Princeton, visited Fred and Eugene Greer during the week-end of May 28-29.

Fern Cox, Howard Robey, Miss Ragland, and Dr. Cherry spent the week-end preceding the opening of summer school at Marks, Mississippi, the guests of Miss Cox's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Cox. Miss Randolph returned by way of Memphis to her home at Point Pleasant, Missouri.

Mrs. Julia Weeks spent the week-end of May 28-29 at Fairview.

Alumni Notes

Mrs. Daisy H. Pemberton now lives at 2733 Bond Avenue, East St. Louis, Ill.

H. A. Simons, class '26, is working on his Master's degree here at Western this summer. Mr. Simons has taught in the schools at Mayaville since his graduation and is now principal of the Lewisburg High School, North Fork, Kentucky in Mason County. There are eight teachers in the organization and they have just closed a splendid year's work. Mr. Simons' wife was formerly Archie Jennings.

Mr. and Mrs. E. N. Perry and little son were among the visitors at the commencement address here. Mrs. Perry, nee Mary Tiehenor, received a Life Certificate from Western in 1924. Mr. Perry delivered the baccalaureate address at Bethel Women's College at Hopkinsville, on Monday evening, May 30. After the address, the college conferred upon Mr. Perry the degree of Doctor of Divinity. He is the pastor of the First Baptist Church at Lawrenceburg.

Mr. John R. Cooper Is Chosen As Dean Of Junior College

Mr. John R. Cooper, A. B. '26, of Fordsville, Ohio county, has accepted the position of dean of Caney Junior College, Pippasburg, Kentucky. He will assume his duties there with the opening of the fall term.

Mr. Cooper has just completed his third year as head of the Calhoun High School. He began his career as teacher of the popular Grove rural school and also taught at Fordsville, Centertown, and Rockport in his home county.

Besides Western Mr. Cooper has attended Peabody College, Columbia University, and the University of Kentucky. He will receive the Master of Arts degree from the latter upon completion of his thesis. While at the University of Kentucky he was a member of Kappa Delta Pi fraternity.

In 1926 Mr. Cooper was married to Miss Hope Clark, of Nashville, and they have two sons, whose ages are four and one. He is a veteran of the World War and is active in fraternal, church and civic movements.

New Gymnasium At Uniontown Is Named After Otis Harkins

At the dedication of the new gymnasium at Uniontown on Monday, May 30, Otis Harkins, A. B. '29, was honored by having the new building named "Harkins Hall" in honor of his endeavors to obtain the gymnasium for Uniontown schools. Mr. Harkins has been principal of the high school there for the past two years.

The unveiling of a bronze tablet bearing the inscription, "Harkins Hall, 1931" came as a surprise to Mr. Harkins at the dedication exercises. The tablet was donated by citizens of Uniontown.

Miss Iva Harris, a member of the high school faculty, spoke as follows on making the dedicatory address:

"I am representing the Parent-Teachers Association. Mr. Harkins, this tablet has been placed here by the Parent-Teacher's Association and other friends, and the building named in your honor as an appreciation of your vision, initiative, and tireless industry by which it materialized, under most discouraging and trying conditions.

"We consider you not only a teacher, a leader of youth, but also a community builder. We have dedicated this building to you and name it Harkins Hall in your honor—no tribute was ever more deserved. Not many men view their memorials in life, but on this Memorial Day you are thus favored. As long as this building stands it will recall memories of you, and be a monument of your enthusiastic and faithful service. In behalf of the Parent-Teacher's Association I extend to you your heartfelt appreciation."

Faculty Camp Trip

By Ellen Hatcher

Edna, Mr. C. L. Taylor, and Dr. Gordon Wilson spent the week-end of June 4 at Woodbury on Green River on their annual camping trip between semesters. It isn't hard for one to imagine how they spent their time; for knowing them as we do, we feel sure that birds and Indian relics played an important part in the trip.

Mr. Taylor found a number of Indian mounds scattered over various farms, especially a very interesting one at the mouth of the river, in which he found a collection of human bones, arrows, flints, and an old Indian tomahawk. In the bend of the river, he discovered a shell mound, and on Dr. E. A. Cherry's farm a number of Indian graves, excellently preserved. These graves are scattered under old houses and woodpiles, but they offer an excellent opportunity for further investigation. These graves and mounds are supposed to be the leaving of the ancient Stone Age culture and the River Men.

Dr. Wilson was not wasting his time while Mr. Taylor was searching around for Indian relics, for he found sixty-six species of birds. It is impossible to leave fishing out of the account, for they spent many hours at this recreation. They are back at school, ready for a summer term of hard work, but they enjoyed their few days of rest which not only brought them recreation, but excellent information as well.

Plants Given To Kentucky Garden

The call for native Kentucky flowers, plants, and shrubs for the Kentucky garden has met with a hearty response. The following donations have recently been made: Mrs. E. L. Richards, chrysanthemums; Mrs. J. R. Alexander, water lilies; Miss Ethel Barker, ivy, sage and mint; James Vaughn, swamp lilies; Mrs. Blanch Mallory, Hercules club and hibiscus; Miss Florence Ragland, lilacs; Miss Graham Sherry, flowering almonds and horse-radish.

Five Added To Staff For Summer School

Leaves of absence granted to a few members of the faculty, together with an increase in attendance in some departments, has made necessary the addition of several instructors to the teaching staff at Western this summer. Teachers who have been added to both the College and the Training School.

The additions to the college staff are: Charles I. Henry, M. A., principal high school, Madisonville, economics; A. P. Prather, M. A., superintendent of schools, Earlinton, education; D. P. Cooper, M. A., principal, Junior High School, Paducah, psychology; J. L. Foust, M. A., superintendent of schools, Owensboro, education and mathematics; and Dr. George Corrie, Ph. D., professor of Latin, Birmingham-Southern College, Birmingham, Ala., Latin.

Additions to the Training School staff are: J. R. Sterett, M. A., superintendent of schools, Lebanon, mathematics; J. O. Lewis, M. A., superintendent of schools, Fulton, mathematics; Wm. J. Wigginton, M. A., Lexington, social science; and Clifford Westerfield, M. A., University of Kentucky, science.

Misses Marjorie Claggett, Sibyl Stonecipher, Gabrielle Robertson, and Dr. A. M. Stickle of the faculty, spent the week-end, June 10-12 in Bloomington, Indiana. All have done graduate work at the University of Indiana, located there.

YEP--

The drawings have started again. Someone is lucky every Saturday night. Let us tell you about it.

You'll enjoy eating here, for our fans and shade make

A Very Comfortable Place

TIP TOP Eat Shoppe

REAL CURB SERVICE

"Where the College Crowd Converges"

Training School Alumni Banquet Is Held At Helm

The annual alumni banquet of the College High of the Training School was held in the dining room of the Helm Hotel on the night of May 25. The tables were decorated with hatched and cherry trees, carrying out the motif of the 200th anniversary of Washington's birth year. Frances Redd, president of the Alumni Association for 1931-32, acted as toastmistress.

The following program, in the atmosphere of the Virginia that Washington knew, was presented: Cherry Blossom Procession; Wedding March, Alumni; Virginia Reel; Alumni; Minuet, Seniors, '32.

After the program a short business session was held, and officers for the ensuing year were elected. They are: president, Louise Welch; secretary, Elizabeth Topmiller.

Hand-Woven Coverlet Donated To Museum

A beautiful blue-and-white wool, hand-woven coverlet has been presented recently to the Kentucky Building by Mrs. Presley Perkins, formerly Miss Elizabeth Thomas, A. B. graduate of Western's 1924 class, and instructor in the Latin Department for several years. The design is said to be Napoleon's March. Mrs. Perkins inherited the coverlet from her mother, who was Miss Stella Phillips of Sonora, Hardin County, Kentucky, where the coverlet was woven.

Friends of Mrs. Perkins will be glad to know that her health is improving and that she has recently enjoyed a week's visit with home folks and relatives at Bowling Green.

Registrar's Notes

The commencement exercises as conducted this year were satisfactory in every respect.

In the graduation exercises ninety-six students received their A. B. and B. S. degrees, while four received their M. A. degrees. This was the largest class ever to graduate in June. Another graduation exercise will be held in August. This is the first year in which two commencement exercises will be held. From all indications the number of graduates this year will exceed by fifteen or twenty any previous year.

A unique feature of the exercises this year was that four sisters received the degree of Bachelor of Arts. These sisters are Misses Molly, Nannie, Maggie and Graham Sherry.

Beauty Permanents

Style and Quality. Special or Croquignole. We give only Pre-Tested Waves, assuring you a perfect wave.

$5.00 to $10.00

"You Will Be Delighted"

LOIS GLYN and HELM BEAUTY SHOPPES
Phones 238-530

Why Cry About the Weather---

When all you have to do to be comfortable is to come to the "old stand-by?" It's cool here and you'll like the food and everything. And economy?—oh, mister, you don't know how you're cheating yourself if you don't eat at the Western Lunch Room

"Everything for the Student"

Buy a meal ticket—one goes so far nowadays—

$5.50 for $5.00

CURB AND FOUNTAIN SERVICE

TALK OF THE TOWN

"What does the number stand for on the winning jockey?"

"It must be the Feldmans' number! They're always leaders when it comes to styles!"

F. ELDMANS
women's apparel

SENIORS WIN OVER FACULTY IN BASEBALL

Professor J. H. Clagett
Turns In Good Performance

The annual game between the faculty members and the seniors was won by the seniors on June 1, by a score of 10-8. Professor J. H. Clagett twirled the first inning for the faculty and turned in a spectacular performance. Mr. Francis pitched for the faculty after the first inning and got along nicely. His home run with the bases loaded gave the faculty a safe lead for five innings, but the seniors came back to forge ahead and win the game 10-8.

Jameson for the seniors had a perfect day at bat, knocking a home run and two singles in as many times at bat.

Line Up

Faculty	Seniors
Salomon, 2nd	Vincent, c
Jones, 2nd	Lawrence, 1b
Myers, 3rd	Mayhew, 2nd
Diddle, c	Jameson, ss
Miller, 1b	Newton, p
Cornette, ss	Alexander, cf
Ejens, cf	Neville, rf
Stephens, rf	Noor, lf
Willey, lf	Howard, 3rd
Taylor, 1st
Clagett, p
Francis, p

Score by Innings
Faculty 9 0 5 0 0 2 1 0 — 8
Seniors 2 0 2 1 2 2 1 0 — 10

Students Tour the West
Tom Hobbs and Marshall Edwards, Western students of Wood-

INTERIOR VIEW PHYSICAL EDUCATION BUILDING

his, Chicago, Lake of the Woods and Southern Canada, Yellowstone Park, Great Salt Lake, the Pacific coast, Pike's Peak, Grand Canyon, and Old Mexico. The party will reach Los Angeles in time to attend the Olympic games.

Graduates' Directory Is Conducted By W. J. Craig

(Continued from Page 1)

Colley, Willie—Riverside, Calif. Teaching Polytechnic Institution. Conover, Agnes—Pineville, Ky. Teaching. Alumni member.
Cox, Roberta—No address.
Denton, Stella (Mrs. Fred Eakins)—Robards, Ky. Homemaker.
Davies, Ellen—Harlan, Ky.
Dunn, D. Y.—Lexington, Ky. Superintendent of Fayette County Schools. Alumni member.
Doas, Imogene—No address.
Drake, Jessie (Mrs. Thomas Kelly)—Bowling Green, Ky. Homemaker.
Donahue, Ellen—Star Route, West Louisville, Ky. Alumni member.
Ellis, Ralph—Brantley, Ala. England, Gilbert—Mayslick, Ky. Principal of School.
Ford, M. C.—Western Teachers College, Bowling Green, Ky. Head of Agriculture Department. Alumni member.
Geurin, Pierce—No address.
Grise, Jedia—Hemmenway School, Wilmington, N. C.
Gray, Helen—Danville, Ky. Teaching.
Guilfoile, Helen—Newport, Ky. Alumni member.
Gregory, Mrs. Ella—Brandenburg, Ky. Alumni member.
Gooch, Ermine—Oakville, Ky.
Hawkins, Jewell (Mrs. Edwin Hampton)—Salmons, Ky. Alumni member.
Hawthorn, Jessie (Mrs. Frank Owen), Frankfort, Ky.
Hareison, M. E.—Route 1, Tucson, Ariz.
Hanes, John—1016 Nutwood, Bowling Green, Ky. Banker.
Hendricks, Catherine—Pikeville, Ky. Teaching. Alumni member.
Henderson, Margaret (Mrs. Riley)—Crutchfield, Ky.
Hunt, Judith (Married). No address.
Horne, Daisy (Mrs. Joshua Pemberton)—2733 Bond Avenue, St. Louis, Ill. Alumni member.

HOT WEATHER—

Is hard on "creases" Let us keep you well-pressed and you won't have to worry about your appearance.

Cleaning

Pressing
Altering
Dyeing

Students

Pressing
Club

"Next to C. D. S. No. 5"

E. St. Louis, Ill. Alumni member.
Irwin, Frank—Route 1, Paducah, Ky. Principal of Heath High School.
James, Georgia (Mrs. George Knott)—No address.
Johnston, Oia—Deceased.
Kirk, J. R.—No address.
Lewis, Alice—1230 Amsterdam Avenue, New York City. Teaching.
Lewis, Lida M. (Mrs. Carl F. Adams)—Greenville, N. C. Homemaker.
Luckett, Lummie—(Married). No address.
Loudermilk, C. A.—Western Teachers College, Bowling Green, Ky. Member of faculty. Alumni member.
Maddox, Nora Ellis—4608 Van Ness St., Washington, D. C.
McConnell, Sarah (Mrs. Miller)—Hodgenville, Ky. Homemaker.
Meek, Gertrude—2103 Hardy Street, Hattiesburg, Miss.
Miller, Earl—No address.
Meers, W. R.—No address.
Meuth, G. W.—Bowling Green, Ky. Attorney at law.
Moorman, Betsy—Glendale, Ky.
Morris Grace—Hickory Grove, Ky.
Myers, Essie—Bowling Green, Ky. Teaching in Junior High School. Alumni member.
O'Dell, Daisy—Bowling Green, Ky. Teaching in Junior High School. Alumni member.
PHELPS, Rexford—Narrows, Ky. Farming. Alumni member.
Paris, Mary—No address.
Petry, Della (Mrs. L. G. Koon)—No address.
Pusey, E. H.—Valley Station, Ky. Teaching. Alumni member.
Price—Deceased.
Rascoe, Mary (Mrs. Noah F. Walters)—Wickliffe, Ky.
Richardson, Olie (Mrs. Thadious Verhine), Fulton, Ky. Homemaker.
Robertson, Guy—749 Montclair St., Pittsburgh, Pa.
Rogers, George—Colesburg, Ky.
Royse, Edgar—Smithland, Ky. Teaching.
Smith, Mary Lee (Mrs. F. K. Gray)—51 N. Blvd., Richmond, Va.
Schultz, Rebecca (Mrs. D. Wade Smith)—Birmingham, Ala. Homemaker.
Shea, Gertrude—Bowling Green, Ky. Doing office work.
Sortelle, Lizzie—No address.
Tuck, Mrs. Roy B.—Curdsville, Ky.
Turner, Bedford—230 Spalding Ave., Lebanon, Ky. Pastor of Methodist Church. Alumni member.
Travelstead, Louise—1225 South 29th St., Birmingham, Ala.
Truman, Carlisle (Mrs. D. T. Cooper)—Bowling Green, Ky. Homemaker.
Thomas, P. E.—Murray, Ky.—Deceased.
VanCleve, Nellie (Mrs. Clardy H. Moore), Clarksville, Tenn.
Wilson, W. C.—Lexington, Workman, Dela (Mrs. James Sweet)—71 Lake Ave., Yonkers, N. Y.
Williams, Mabel (Mrs. Mabel Marshall)—No address.
Whitehouse, Robert—Southern

Graduate School History Reviewed by Dean Grice

(Continued from Page 1)

struction. The satisfactory passing of a final oral examination covering the thesis and their major and minor fields of study and the possession of satisfactory personal and professional qualities are also required.

The Graduate School is under the direction of the Dean of the College, assisted by a Committee on Graduate Instruction made up of the heads of the departments in which graduate work is being offered. The Graduate School faculty is composed of all teachers offering instruction in the Graduate School. Eighteen members of the regular faculty are offering work on the graduate level. With the exception of two, all members of the Graduate School staff hold the Ph. D. degree. Institutions represented by instructors holding this degree are: University of Indiana, University of Wisconsin, George Peabody College for Teachers, Leland Stanford, University of Michigan, Ohio State University, Columbia University, and others.

Not only is the training of the faculty adequate to an effective graduate program in the departments now concerned, but all materials, equipment, and books necessary for the present needs of the institution have been provided.

Dr. Jas. Barnes Honored With Research Fellowship

(Continued from Page 1)

city of Wisconsin, and was a research fellow at the Brookings Institute. The latter fellowship enabled him to carry on the necessary research to collect material for his book, "John G. Carlisle, Financial Statesman," which was recently published. This book represents an original piece of research and is the first biography of President Cleveland's Secretary of the Treasury, who aided Cleveland in keeping the United States from going off the gold standard. Dr. Barnes' book has since been mentioned for the Pulitzer Prize.

"Dr. Barnes was appointed to the History Department last year. Previously, in addition to the fellowships he held, he taught at the University of Wisconsin, the Western Kentucky Teachers College Summer School, the University of Kentucky Summer School and the University of South Dakota. He received his Bachelor's degree at Western Kentucky Teachers College, and his M. A. and Ph. D. at the University of Wisconsin. He has spoken before numerous historical societies and is the author of several magazine articles dealing with the gold and silver question.

"The Social Science Research Council and the Guggenheim Foundation are two great American organizations for the advancement of scholarship through the granting of fellowships. The former is made up of all the social science organizations in the United States."

Art Exhibit Is Returned After Display On Hill

Art students of the college and others interested in the field have enjoyed an unusual privilege in having access to the exhibit of children's creative paintings from the Art Center in Louisville which has been on display on the third floor of the Library.

The exhibit—a large one consisting in part of an exhibit from J. B. Speed museum in Louisville—was prepared by school children in Louisville from the ages of seven to eleven years under the direction of Misses Barnum and Nay. It was lent to the local Art Department through the courtesy of the Louisville Art Center.

Ten County School Heads At Western

The numerous county superintendents who are attending summer school is an evidence of the progressiveness of Kentucky in education. Western has her quota of these leaders in education in the following people: E. M. Totty, Warren County, Glasgow; Louis Arnold, Butler County, Morgantown; Robert E. Traylor, Caldwell County, Princeton; Ewing Wilson, Cumberland County, Burkesville; R. I. Glover, Hancock County, Haverhill; Herman L. Williams, Metcalfe County, Edmonton; Paul Lyon; Monroe County, Tompkinsville; George E. Sapp, Taylor County, Campbellsville; W. S. Clark, Grayson County, Letchfield; and T. V. Fortenberry, Webster County, Dixon.

Public Problems Course Is Opened

Dr. O. C. Ault, professor of economics at Peabody College, opened the first meeting of the annual summer course in public problems with lectures at 11:10 A. M. and 4:15 P. M. on Tuesday, June 14, at the Little Theatre of the Library Building.

These meetings mark the beginning of Western's third course in public problems, the other two having been held in the summers of 1930 and 1931. The class will Eat With Us!

5¢ Hamburgers 5¢

"Buy 'Em By the Sack"

"You'll Like 'Em the Way We Fry 'Em"

Good Coffee, Cereals, Rolls, Pies and Drinks

Our Famous Chili—10¢

Bowling Green

Snappy Service

State and Eleventh Streets

meet on each Tuesday and Thursday at 11:10 A. M. and 4:15 P. M. for a period of four weeks. Besides Dr. Ault, Dr. A. M. Stickle, head of the Department of History at Western, and a number of prominent citizens of Bowling Green will be present to discuss current social, political and economic questions.

RENT A CAR
Special Trip Rates to Mammoth Cave and Nashville
Savage-U-Drive-It Co.
FORDS AUSTINS DE SOTOS
1026 State Street Phone 1025

A Hundred Dollars Worth of Breeze and Comfort
In An Electric Fan at
$2.95
WE REPAIR ELECTRICAL GOODS
Max B. Potter
"55 Steps From the Square"
College & 10th Telephone 1235
QUICK DELIVERY SERVICE

We Cater to Students!
Phone 771 For
DRY CLEANING
THAT PLEASES!
If you want complete Dry-Cleaning satisfaction phone us. Our very modern equipment and years of experience are your guarantee of complete satisfaction.
We Give Merchants Expansion Coupons—Ask For Them!
AMERICAN DRY CLEANERS
"We Strive to do the Impossible—Please Everybody"

LET US HELP YOU GET THE PICTURE YOU WANT—
ISN'T THIS THE KIND OF
PICTURE YOU'RE SEEKING?
Franklin's Studio
930 1/2 STATE STREET PHONE 212

IT
HITS
THE SPOT!
Our delicious hot weather plate is just the thing you've been craving
Just think!
2 Salads, 3 Assorted Sandwiches,
and a Drink—
ALL FOR 25¢

THE VARSITY GRILL
"THE HUB OF THE HILL"
Curb Service — Orders Delivered
PHONE 425-W

PUSHIN'S ANNOUNCES A Free Gift Contest

Win a Chest of Silver!
ENNA JETTICK WORD CONTEST!

FIRST PRIZE:
50 piece chest, Oneida Community Par Plate, guaranteed for 35 years.
SECOND PRIZE:
Beautiful Oneida Community Par Plate Steak Platter.
THIRD PRIZE:
Your choice of a pair of Enna Jettick Shoes.

Come in, get your free entry blank and explanations! The Enna Jettick Word Contest is a fascinating game! How many words can you make from the letters contained in this slogan:

WEAR ENNA JETTICK SHOES

TRY your skill. Get out your paper and pencil. It's simple! Here are a few: are, eat, ear, jet, ten, etc. Entries must be left at our store before closing, June 25th, or postmarked not later than midnight, June 25th, 1932. The prizes will be awarded as soon as it is possible to check carefully all entries.

Enna Jettick Shoes are smart for all occasions and are made in sizes to fit any foot. They are created for energetic women who want to go and do without fatigue. The prices are $5 and $6—none higher. "You need no longer be told that you have an expensive foot."

Prizes Given Away Here In Our Store

SEE OUR WINDOWS!

PUSHIN'S
DEPARTMENT STORE